Cruise, Explore & Dive The Best of Thailand
SIMILAN & SURIN ISLANDS

Special Group Departure

The Similan Islands in Thailand are thought to have inherited their name from the Malay word 'sembilan' meaning 'nine' as the main part of the Similans Archipelago consists of a group of nine granite boulder islands. However, with the inclusion of Koh Bon and Koh Tachai as part of the Similans Marine National Park, there are 11 islands in total. Above the water topography is stunning; lush vegetation tops the islands giving way to granite boulders or white sandy beaches, surrounded by crystal clear water. Diving in the Similan and Surin Islands is renowned for its exceptional quality and is considered one of the best diving destinations in the world.

The Similan Islands and Surin Islands National Marine Parks are best reached by live-aboard dive boat and this 6 night safari covers both allowing up to 19 dives, including up to 4 sunset / night dives at some of the best dive sites in the Andaman Sea. Sharks, marbled whip rays, turtles, harlequin shrimp and wondrous soft corals all await the eager diver.

The waters around the Similan and Surin Islands are known for their crystal-clear visibility, often exceeding 30 meters (100 feet). This excellent visibility allows divers to fully appreciate the vibrant colors of the coral reefs and observe marine life with incredible clarity. The absence of pollution and minimal human impact contribute to the preservation of the underwater ecosystem.

Come with us to discover and dive this remarkable region.
